✎ Professional Summary

I'm a React Native developer with hands-on experience building fast, reliable mobile apps for both iOS and Android. I work mainly with JavaScript, TypeScript, Redux, and APIs, and I care deeply about writing clean, efficient code that leads to a smooth user experience. I've worked on freelance platforms like Fiverr and Upwork, where I've helped clients turn ideas into fully functional apps. I'm constantly learning — especially in UI/UX design — to make sure the apps I build not only work great but also look and feel great. I enjoy working with teams, paying attention to the little details, and always aim to deliver high-quality results.
